RISK FACTORS

2. Listed in the order of importance, the factors which the Company considers to be the most substantial risks to an investor in this offering in view of all facts and circumstances or which otherwise make the offering one of high risk or speculative (i.e., those factors which constitute the greatest threat that the investment will be lost in whole or in part, or not provide an adequate return.
 1. Relevant Links, Inc. is a new company. Relevant Links, Inc. is an investment risk because of significantly limited operations to date.
Relevant Links, Inc. was incorporated in the State of Colorado on April 7, 2000. Relevant Links, Inc. is in the development stage and has had significantly limited operations with net losses and negative cash flows to date. Relevant Links, Inc. has not been able to establish significant advertising revenues to date and there is no historical basis to expect that sufficient revenues will be generated by the planned efforts.
 2. Relevant Links, Inc. is an investment risk because the business model and marketing strategies planned are not proven. If this model and strategies are unsuccessful Relevant Links, Inc. may not attract enough users and advertisers to become profitable.
Relevant Links, Inc. has no established basis to assure investors that business or marketing strategies will be successful. A lack of achieving significant advertising revenues to date implies uncertainty as to the amount and adequacy of future advertising revenues; as well as Relevant Links, Inc.'s ability to attract sufficient users to operate its websites profitably.
 3. Relevant Links, Inc. plans to develop new software products. Relevant Links, Inc. may not be able to adequately develop these planned software projects resulting in the loss of funds expended in their development.
Relevant Links, Inc. has no established basis to assure investors that software development projects will be completed as planned or gain adequate market acceptance. The planned software projects are in their preliminary stage of development and may become too costly or become obsolete prior to their complete development. The continued use of third party software would not provide any competitive advantage over potential competitors who may be better capitalized.

Relevant Links, Inc.

4. Relevant Links, Inc. company developed websites may not generate sufficient interest to become profitable. This will negatively impact the ability to generate needed revenue.

Relevant Links, Inc. owns and may continue to develop its own websites. Management may select subject matter for websites that does not have sufficient interested users to make the site profitable. Company operated websites are part of the revenue model in the business plan and the failure of these sites could effect the companies ability to sustain operations. The Numisbid.com auction site is currently being developed and is dependent on sufficient users for its functionality and profitability as an auction site. Other sites owned by Relevant Links, Inc. are generating minor revenue but require further development for Relevant Links, Inc. to obtain adequate future revenues.

5. Relevant Links, Inc. does not have exclusive rights to the majority of content contained on its websites. Owners of this third party content could prohibit its use by Relevant Links, Inc. or charge fees negatively affecting the profitability of the sites using the content.

Relevant Links, Inc. makes extensive use of content provided by third parties. Should these providers change their terms of use or prohibit the use of their content, Relevant Links, Inc. may have to generate the content internally at increased expense or seek a new provider for potentially less favorable terms. Currently Relevant Links, Inc. pays no fees for the content provided on company owned websites.

6. Investors could lose all or a substantial portion of their investment if the offering price arbitrarily determined by Relevant Links, Inc. has been set too high, at a value greater than a market value that the shares can attain.

The offering price of the common shares bears no relation to book value, assets, earnings, or any other objective criteria of value. Relevant Links, Inc. has arbitrarily determined the price. Investors could lose all or a part of their investment if the offering price has been arbitrarily set too high. There can be no assurance that, even if a public trading market develops for Relevant Link's stock, the shares will attain market values commensurate with the offering price.

7. Relevant Links, Inc. may not realize sufficient or timely sales from this offering to fully develop its software products, as Relevant Links is offering shares on direct participation basis, rather than using the experience of a dealer-broker.

Relevant Links, Inc. is offering shares on a direct participation basis; and no individual, firm, or corporation has agreed to purchase or take down any of the offered shares. No assurance can be given that any or all of the shares will be sold. Relevant Links, Inc. does not plan to use a dealer-broker, even though a dealer-broker may have more experience, resources or contacts to more effectively achieve the sale of shares. A failure to realize at least 50% of sales will preclude Relevant Links, Inc.'s ability to fully develop its planned software products; and, where only 10% sales may be achieved, only marketing activities could be engaged, other sources of funds would have to be exploited to implement and/or complete new product development. A delay in the sale of the shares in this offering will negatively impact Relevant Links' capability to complete staffing requirements and initiate marketing activities.

8. Relevant Links, Inc. may register this offering in one or only a few states. Many states will require registration of these securities in order to sell to its citizens. This limited state registration will limit the number of potential purchasers negatively effecting the companies ability to sell this offering.

Relevant Links, Inc. will initially register its securities for sale in the State of Colorado, and intends to register in additional states if necessary to complete this offering. The securities will likely not be considered a "covered" security, so state registration is required in many states for initial sales from the issuer. Relevant Links may have to register the offering in other states to sell a sufficient amount of this offering to implement the current business plan. Each additional state registration will add costs and time delays to this offering.

Relevant Links, Inc.

9. Relevant Links, Inc. may not be able to develop sufficient interest in its stock to create a stable market. – Investors will be subject to probable price fluctuations or no market for these securities may develop and investors would be unable to sell their securities.

Relevant Links, Inc.'s common stock may be designated as a "penny stock", defined as any equity security that has a market price of less than $5.00 per share. Material risks associated with penny stocks include price fluctuations and the lack of a liquid market for such securities. Investors may find it difficult to find a suitable buyer for their stock and may experience extreme price fluctuations resulting from a small volume of sales.

BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES

3. With respect to the business of the Company and its properties:

- (a) Describe in detail what business the Company does and proposes to do, including what products or goods are or will be produced or services that will be rendered.

Relevant Links, Inc. has been formed to:

1. Create and operate narrow-interest group Internet web sites, called "niche portals", appealing to a variety of affinity groups. These niche portals will offer content appealing to that specific interest group, including an extensive library of "relevant links" to other web sites of interest on the subject matter, and serve as a useful hub site for affinity group members. This is accomplished by exhaustively pre-searching the overall Internet for other sites of narrow interest and creating handy, organized lists of links to those sites. The niche portal offers all the benefits of a complete search engine without all the necessary effort to weed out the extraneous, "irrelevant" sites suggested by generalized search engines.
2. Write new, proprietary underlying niche portal software applications that will facilitate easier, more automated management of all aspects of the niche portal and serve as a template for all Relevant Links, Inc.'s niche portal sites. Such an application will largely automate the many functions designed into the niche portal sites, making ongoing site administration far easier than current applications allow.
3. Create and operate niche auction sites for narrow interest group items. The Internet has evolved numerous auction venues taking advantage of the virtually free posting of information to a worldwide audience. Most such sites offer broad merchandise categories, while niche auctions will restrict to one specific, narrow category. To date, Relevant Links, Inc. has launched one such site, www.numisbid.com, which will soon auction rare coins.
4. Create a new auction software application, which closely parallels existing auction software currently utilized by companies like eBay, but includes refinement management believes will improve functionality, making such software more valuable than existing products.

Niche Portals

One of the most important functions performed by the Internet is dissemination of information on specific subjects to a worldwide audience of adherents. A new type of special interest group site is evolving; the niche portal. The niche portal is a central meeting site for these special interest groups, with links to numerous narrower subject matter independent sites. Once linked, benefits flow to both the niche portal and the linked independent sites, providing traffic which would otherwise not find the Independent site, and building a library of relevant links for the niche portal, making it more useful. Most independent sites welcome this electronic version of a referral, some reward it by allowing use of their content and some actually pay for each connection forwarded to their site.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Most existing niche portals are built and managed by amateur enthusiasts, who lack advanced programming and/or marketing skills, so effective well-designed niche portals are rare in each narrow interest. There are five main skills needed to produce successful niche portal web sites: concept planning, site design and construction, link solicitation and implementation, site promotion to build audience, and advertising sales. Each of these areas requires unique talents and virtually no one possesses all such talents. For this reason, Relevant Links, Inc. intends to utilize an assembly line approach to the business, by which different individuals will perform each of these tasks. This contrasts with the methodology of most existing niche portals, in which one enthusiast attempts to perform all such tasks, often poorly.

Once Relevant Links launches a specific-interest niche portal site with useful links and begins to secure an audience, it will solicit advertising directly related to the subject matter. It is generally accepted that advertisers seek to focus their advertising budgets on the most receptive possible customers, and a niche portal, viewed almost exclusively by narrow group devotees becomes an ideal, selected audience. Relevant Links, Inc. believes it can solicit and secure relevant advertising which is more focused and effective to the advertiser and therefore more lucrative to the web site and Relevant Links, Inc.

Linking Software Application.

A central concept of Niche Portals is the extensive use of links to other useful sites related to the central concept. To date, linking has required laborious efforts to manually insert links on both sites. Recent software innovations such as "Links 2.0", a software application developed by Gossamer-Threads, have made linking far easier and more automated, in that the visitor to the site can now merely fill out a web-based form that is then processed on the server and automatically added to a database file, which establishes the link.

However, one of the deficiencies of the Links 2.0 software package is that it utilizes a flat-file database technology, where data is stored and retrieved sequentially, which is inherently slow and inefficient as the size of the database increases, adversely affecting the overall performance of the site. Additionally, while the concept of the Links 2.0 application is excellent, it lacks features that are important for user interactivity.

Relevant Links intends to modify current approaches by configuring its program to work with a relational database, where data is stored and accessed as it relates to other data, which greatly improves performance and overall site speed. Relational database technology improves performance by limiting access paths to relevant data only, whereas flat-file technology requires access through all previously sequentially stored data to reach the requested data. Relational database technology also permits growth and flexibility of the database without impact to performance, as data access paths do not increase significantly with growth of the database.

The new product, which will be called "Relevant Links v.1.0" will include features such as an automated site magazine. The automated site magazine feature is a combination of software and data that is presented at the site in magazine format. The software provides the capability to add relevant articles to the site magazine, and will automatically insert the article into the magazine, displaying author information, date and contributor. After a specified period of time, the article will automatically be removed from the magazine and placed into a searchable archive. The magazine remains a permanent feature of the site, and maintains currency through the ongoing addition of new articles, as well as the archiving of older articles. Other additional features will include the ability for users to add new categories to the database directory without the site administrator; adding a "review" feature to the directory listings enabling users to write a review on the listing. This software package will completely automate the niche portal, eliminating daily maintenance. Relevant Links, Inc. does not intend to market this software application initially, but may elect to do so in the future depending on the evolution of niche portals in general.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Auction Sites.

One clearly successful web application has been the proliferation of on-line auctions. First and foremost among these is eBay, which offers third party 'garage sale' auctions in literally hundreds of different categories of merchandise, and continues to enjoy spectacular growth. Relevant Links, Inc. believes that a significant opportunity exists to build and host a number of auction sites with a far narrower focus; rare coins, for example. Toward that end, Relevant Links has already launched an auction site, www.numisbid.com for the auctioning of rare coins, and has begun contacting coin dealers. Numisbid.com will offer consumer to consumer, business to consumer and anonymous business to business auctions. One of the principals of Relevant Links, Inc. has extensive contacts within the numismatic industry, which should help the company establish a presence. Auction sites receive revenue from both commissions and advertising. Relevant Links is in contact with a number of coin vendors who have expressed interest in using this newly established auction site and is optimistic it will secure significant business for the site.

Auction Software.

Just as Relevant Links, Inc. recognizes shortcomings in existing linking software applications, it foresees a need for a proprietary auction application specifically for "niche" interests that will take the concept of current auction applications and make it more efficient. In particular, this application will attempt to greatly simplify the installation process, thus improving the web-based administrator interface and making administration of the auction site possible for the layperson.

- (b) Describe how these products or services are to be produced or rendered and how and when the Company intends to carry out its activities. If the Company plans to offer a new product, state the present stage of development, including whether or not a working prototype is in existence. Indicate if completion of development of the product would require a material amount of the resources of the Company, and the estimated amount. If the Company is or is expected to be dependent on one or a limited number of suppliers for essential raw materials, energy or other items, describe. Describe any major existing supply contracts.

Relevant Links, inc. has purchased two Niche Portals, Stockpickcentral.com from Mark Bogani and Jeff Chatfield and Coincrazy.com from Mark Bogani and a former director. These sites have become the original flagship portals owned and managed by Relevant Links, Inc. Stockpickcentral.com appeals to stock investors and was launched in March 1999, and revised to current format in July. Coincrazy.com was launched in September 1999.

Both these sites, as with future Niche Portals, exhibit five main elements:

1. Extensive Links Directory
2. News Headlines
3. User Forums
4. Monthly magazine with contributed articles
5. FAQ / Knowledge Base

The effort is to serve the needs of the affinity group by providing a forum for dissemination of news, discussions and in-depth articles, while providing a useful Link Directory which is very exhaustive and replaces the requirement for manual search for most categories. As such, the niche portal becomes a utility site; that is, a general usage site containing news, articles, information, and relevant site recommendations as pertain to the category or industry in which the user is interested.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Stockpickcentral.com

Investors can view financial news, stock quotes, market quotes, trade tips and recommendations, read articles or look for related sites, both commercial and private, which pertain to their financial world. In the year since the format was updated the site has gained some 2000+ average daily unique visitors who rely on the site for these services and who become a particularly favorable audience for advertisers specializing in some facet of the industry. Stockpickcentral.com produces minimal site content internally but relies primarily on content providers for the following features: MarketCall™ Newsletter- by TrendTrader.com, Market Data- by Barchart.com, Top Stories, Market and Stock News from CNBC- by iSyndicate, Bookstore- by Amazon.com through their Associates program, Audio and Video news- by ON24News. None of the features are provided exclusively to Stockpickcentral.com. Relevant Links, Inc. does not pay any fees for this content. This content contains advertisements from which the provider receives revenue and therefore use of their content by Stockpickcentral.com increases their advertisement revenues. There are no contracts or other assurances that this content will continue to be provided or provided without charge.

Coincrazy.com

Coin enthusiasts can view precious metals charts, current coin prices, find links to related sites, purchase books and interact in clubs by participating in various messages boards. Coincrazy.com currently receives approximately 2200 average unique site visitors per day. Coincrazy.com produces minimal site content internally but relies primarily on content providers for the following features: Precious Metal Charts- by KITCO(Kitco.com), Current Coin Prices- by Collector's Universe, Bookstore- by Amazon.com through their Associates program. None of the features are provided exclusively to Coincrazy.com. Relevant Links, Inc. does not pay any fees for this content. There are no contracts or other assurances that this content will continue to be provided or provided without charge.

Numisbid.com

The Nunisbud.com site is functional in that the programming necessary to make the content and active elements of the pages function is complete. The site is interactive in nature and therefore requires testing to assure that users can navigate and utilize the features of the site. Users of the site must interact by placing items for auction and bidding on those items. Therefore, much of the site content is generated by the users/visitors and therefore the mechanisms in which that content is integrated must be tested. An introductory period is planned in which typical user interaction can be evaluated and the software can be modified to correct anomalies. The development milestones indicated in question 4(a) are a better indicator of the planned development of this Internet site.

Portal Software

The Relevant links portal software has had some components written. Internal testing of the automated site magazine feature, which presents content in magazine format, is currently being tested for basic function and general appeal of the presentation by in house personnel. A major component of the software that has not been developed is an Advertisement Server that controls the placement of advertisements on the sites. The full development of this software is not planned until six months after the effectiveness of this offering. The current state of development should be considered preliminary in nature. The development milestones indicated in question 4(a) are a better indicator of the planned development of this software application.

Auction Software

Relevant Links, Inc. has begun some preliminary development of the auction software. This is primarily in the area of evaluating existing auction software products. Programming of any code would merely be exploring potential techniques for use at a future date. The development milestones indicated in question 4(a) are a better indicator of the planned development of this software application.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Future Niche Portals

Relevant Links, Inc. intends to compartmentalize the various tasks required to producing, operating and promoting niche portals and use the diverse skills of different individuals in each area. Relevant Links already controls over 100 domain names that pertain to potential subjects for future niche portals, and continues to examine potential narrow interest groups amenable to its niche portal approach. As Relevant Links recruits and employs more people who can build and promote such sites, the pace of site deployment will accelerate. Relevant Links, Inc. has recently subleased office space located at 5655 S. Yosemite St. #109, Greenwood Village, Colorado and moved equipment into the space as of September 15, 2000. Relevant Links, Inc. is currently interviewing prospective employees who will be involved in development of software applications and graphic design and expects to complete initial staffing as indicated by the timelines provided in question 4(a). Relevant Links, Inc. believes that this level of staffing will provide the capacity to launch three niche portals per month.

In the 'assembly line' concept, once a site is designed and built and a library of relevant links is in place, marketing personnel will begin promoting the site via advertising, direct contact and message boards to build audience. Once an initial base of visitors is established and growing, other marketing personnel will begin pursuit of potential advertisers; see question 3(d)—marketing strategies. Principals in Relevant Links who have had experience in launching and promoting niche portals believe that it will commonly take 3 months to build a large enough directory of links to lure and retain site visitors. Once a certain traffic flow is then established they believe it will take an additional 2-3 months to solicit potential advertisers, resulting in revenues to the site and Relevant Links, Inc. Fortunately, in contrast with print media such as magazines, the ongoing cost of posting information and maintaining the site is minimal, making the carrying cost of each niche portal a relatively small burden. Relevant Links expects that niche sites will vary widely in acceptance and profitability. However, it is clear that a significant portion of capital raised will be expended on site development and promotion, and revenues from advertising sales will lag considerably. Relevant Links believes it has budgeted sufficient resources for staffing and other costs to carry it through until revenues can match ongoing costs and begin to produce a profit.

- (c) Describe the industry in which the Company is selling or expects to sell its products or services. And, where applicable, any recognized trends within that industry. Describe that part of the industry and the geographic area in which the business competes or will compete.

Indicate whether price is expected to be by price, service, or other basis. Indicate the current or anticipated prices or price ranges for the Company's products or services, or the formula for determining prices, and how these prices compare with those of competitor's products or services, including a description of any variation in product or service features. Name the principal competitors that the Company has or expects to have in its area of competition. Indicate the relative size and financial and market strengths of the Company's competitors in the area of competition in which the Company will be operating. State why the Company believes it can effectively compete with these and other companies in its area of competition.

Note: Because this Offering focuses primarily on details concerning the Company rather than the industry in which the Company operates or will operate, potential investors may wish to conduct their own separate investigation of the Company's industry to obtain a broader insight in assessing the Company's prospects.

Relevant Links, Inc. will operate within the world of the Internet. The majority of revenues anticipated by Relevant Links will be derived from advertising sales. By producing niche portals, Relevant Links will generate a very narrowly defined audience, i.e. horse lovers or coin collectors. Advertisers will be able to display to a selected audience, as opposed to a shotgun approach like a freeway billboard. This represents a competitive advantage not against other niche portals but against other generalized web sites and other media like newspapers and radio with unfocused, broad audiences.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Internet web site advertising is measured and billed per one thousand impressions. For example, one web page displayed with an advertising banner to one thousand individuals visiting the site represents the basic unit of advertising.

Ad Relevance, a Jupiter Media Metrix Company, compiles industry statistics in numerous areas of internet usage and advertising. Their report "The State of Online Advertising" (copyright 2001) focusing on the last quarter of the year 2000, states that the mean average of banner advertising (based on exposures to 1000 page views) ranges between $28.28 and $54.17, depending on the style of the banner presented.

One web page can exhibit up to three banners, each yielding an impression; or fewer banners and more buttons, smaller displays. Also, Relevant Links intends to offer boldface listing of links, colored links and other enhanced listings for which it will charge advertisers. Advertising revenue generated will be directly related to the number of site visitors and the number of individual pages they request and view.

Currently Relevant Links' sites charge a flat fee for banner advertising not related to the number of page views, although management believes such statistics remain good yardsticks for forecasting advertising revenue in the long run. Relevant Links, Inc. expects to stay at the high end of any such spectrum due to the focused nature of its viewership. For example, a coin dealer advertising on CoinCrazy.com can expect virtually all viewers to be coin collectors, whereas only a small fraction of visitors to Yahoo.com, for example, will be coin collectors. Secondly, since the niche portal is designed to be both entertaining and useful to its audience. Viewership has consistently grown on each of the sites owned by Relevant Links, Inc. In March, 2001, each site experienced over 2,000 unique visitors per day routinely, with a spike of 3780 daily average for a single week on Coincrazy.com. Relevant Links, Inc. is confident that with both number of visitors growing and the audience being specialized to the subject at hand it will continue to increase advertising revenue.

Current advertising sales came about through the casual site traffic signing up using the on-line month to month advertising agreement. Management believes that active solicitation for advertisers using the database of relevant site links will generate sales. The inherent advantage in soliciting advertising for Niche Portals is their highly focused viewership comprised of only affinity group members, so management is confident it will succeed in securing advertising at rates at least the industry norm for impressions.

- (d) Describe specifically the marketing strategies the Company is employing or will employ in penetrating its market or developing a new market. Set forth in response to Question 4 below the timing and size of the results of this effort which will be necessary in order for the Company to be profitable. Indicate how and by whom its products or services are or will be marketed (such as advertising, personal contacts by sales representatives, etc.), how its marketing structure operates or will operate and the basis for its marketing approach, including any market studies. Name any customers that account for, or based upon existing orders will account for a major portion (20% or more) of the Company's sales. Describe any major existing sales contracts.

Relevant Link, Inc.'s core business is the construction and operation of Niche Portals, which includes solicitation of advertising for revenues. This is largely due to the two years' experience operating two Niche sites: Stockpickcentral.com and Coincrazy.com.

As a general statement, advertisers seek to expose their product or service to the most receptive possible audience, those already prone to using its products or services or already using a competitor's products or services; and encourage a bidding process among competing media in order to secure the most exposure at the lowest possible cost.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Relevant Links, Inc. plans to employ a unique marketing approach. Niche portal Link Directories are designed to list links for all relevant or topic related companies as a service to visitors. These are the natural targets for advertising, since they depend on Internet traffic to generate a portion of their sales. Relevant Links plans to provide free links to each relevant site it verifies as authentic and useful, which should generate a modest traffic flow to the satellite site. Once the link is established and the Relevant Links' niche portal site begins to gain visitors, Relevant Links, Inc. will approach the satellite sites to sell advertising as an up-sell rather than a cold call. The effect of the existing free link is to provide some advertising benefit to the satellite site; the selling effort is to enhance that link via banner advertising adjacent to the link or on other pages. Given the pre-existing relationship with the satellite site, Relevant Links, Inc. expects a more effective campaign than would otherwise be the case.

The marketing model has its passive element of providing site traffic to potential advertisers free of charge. This element has already generated advertising sales via the on-line month to month advertising agreements. Approximately a dozen advertisers are currently paying for banners.

The active element will employ dedicated sales staff soliciting advertising from Relevant Links' database of satellite sites. Satellite sites receiving the most traffic from the free links will likely be targeted to purchase banners.

Currently, management expects to generate small advertising sales of $40 to $100 from many advertisers. It is not a current expectation that a single advertiser will represent a major portion of the advertising revenues.

There may be a potential for a single significant advertiser if the site traffic reached a high volume or if an advertiser of general appeal like a credit card or a telecommunications company sought to purchase block advertising on all sites controlled or managed by Relevant Links, Inc.

- (e) State the backlog of written firm orders for products and/or services as of a recent date (within the last 90 days) and compare it with the backlog of a year ago from that date.

Relevant Links, Inc. is a newly formed company with a limited operating history and does not currently have a backlog of written firm orders for products or services as of a recent date, nor does Relevant Links, Inc. have an operational background or history which would provide for a comparative backlog of one year ago for such products or services.

The only foreseeable backlogs that could occur in the future would be the creation of niche portal sites for third parties if interest in niche portal development grew faster than the capacity of our staffing level.

Premises

It is vital that Relevant Links has both a virtual storefront facing the general public and a professional web interface with hi-bandwidth; that is, the capability to process large volumes of information. The goal is for clients to be able to move between either medium according to their communications preference. This will also allow development on premises, and customer sites, according to our needs.

Relevant Links, Inc.'s core business will be the construction and operation of unique 'Niche Portal' web sites utilizing a software application of Relevant Links' own design. This application will likely be copyrighted, and will represent considerable insight into niche portal site management. The effect of this software will be to make operating these sites easier and far more automated, but the sites could be constructed without this software with greater effort and ongoing attention. While this software innovation is important, it is not critical to operations.

Relevant Links, Inc. expects to spend around $75,000 in the next year for development, implementation and retrofitting of this application, either with outside parties or in-house personnel. In addition to the contemplated Relevant Links 1.0, link-facilitating and site management software discussed above, Relevant Links intends to author its own auction software application, at an estimated cost of $75,000, to incorporate several features it believes are needed. Again, Relevant Links, Inc. could and may use existing, off-the-shelf software applications for its early auction sites. It will likely also offer any newly created auction software to third parties under licensing. The main focus of these programming efforts is to attempt to automate the ongoing operation of niche portal and auction sites, allowing site users to input the necessary data periodically without large amount of supervision by Relevant Links, Inc. Delays or a decision not to author such software would not stop launch efforts, but could affect ongoing operations as related to the development and continued operation of the portals.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Relevant Links, Inc. has begun some preliminary development of the Numisbid auction software and the Relevant links portal software. Some internal testing of components of the software is underway. However, the development milestones indicated in question 4(a) are a better indicator of the planned development of these software applications.

Management expects that the software development projects will provide cost savings to internal operation. The potential licensing revenues are considered a secondary benefit. Expenditures for the development of these products will be budgeted as to not negatively impact development of the niche portal sites.

The terms of licensing contacts have not been determined at this time.

- (j) State the names of any subsidiaries of the Company, their business purposes and ownership, and indicate which are included in the Financial Statements attached hereto. If not included, or if included but not consolidated, please explain.

Relevant Links, Inc. has no subsidiaries.

- (k) Summarize the material events in the development of the Company (including any material mergers or acquisitions) during the past five years, or for whatever lesser period the Company has been in existence. Discuss any pending or anticipated mergers, acquisitions, spin-offs or recapitalizations. If the Company has recently undergone a stock split, stock dividend or recapitalization in anticipation of this offering, describe (and adjust historical per share figures elsewhere in the Offering Circular accordingly).

Relevant Links, Inc. has acquired the assets of CoinCrazy and StockPickCentral. The two web sites were purchased by Relevant Links from Mark A. Bogani, Treasurer and Secretary; Jeffrey Chatfield, a principal stockholder; and a former director; for 1,365,000 shares of common stock and notes totaling $75,000.

No other applicable material mergers or acquisitions have occurred during the period of Relevant Links, Inc.'s existence, incorporated on April 7, 1000, nor are any such mergers, acquisitions, spin-offs, or recapitalizations pending or anticipated. Relevant Links, Inc. has not undergone any stock split or dividend, or recapitalizations in anticipation of this offering or otherwise.

Relevant Links, Inc. may identify beneficial acquisitions in the future. However, none have been identified at this time.

Relevant Links, Inc.

The following specifies the use, if any, of proceeds from this offering as pertain to each of the previously listed events which Relevant Links management believes should occur to create revenues. Where the receipt of levels of proceeds other than the maximum may impact the event, the anticipated impact is specified. Refer to Use of Proceeds, Question 9(a), for further description of the source and amount of proceeds available.

Event or Milestone	Amount	Use of Proceeds
Solicit advertising for Coincrazy and Stockpickcentral	$ 27,500	Nominal costs, which may include marketing, site management, and site development are anticipated. Advertising revenues may be expected to timely replenish implementation costs. A working capital of $27,500 is allocated from Marketing proceeds for unforeseen marketing, site management or implementation needs; and for salary costs if a suitable sales staff can be hired at this point.
Begin Numisbid introduction	$ 10,000	Numisbid is currently a fully functional site. The one-month introductory phase is intended as marketing intent, to promote web site interest. A working capital of $10,000 is allocated from Marketing proceeds for this introduction, and where unforeseen site application problems may occur or require correction.
Solicit Numisbid advertising	-	Nominal costs, which may include marketing, site management, and site development are anticipated. Advertising revenues are expected to replenish implementation costs. The working capital of $27,500 previously applied for Coincrazy and Stockpickcentral, is applicable for Numisbid in anticipation of unforeseen marketing and/or site management or implementation circumstances.
Complete initial staffing	$172,500	Staffing will be conducted by current management and should not require the use of offering proceeds for completion. An Employee Salary Reserve of $172,500 (nine months reserve) is available where software application development projects may be delayed in starting and/or completion. The reserve is reduced to three months coverage with offering stock sales at 50%. Offering stock sales at less than 50% will effectively eliminate salary reserves
Begin Niche Portal application software development	$ 75,000	Niche Portal application software development is funded at $75,000 from Application Development proceeds. Funding is fully allocated at either 100% or 50% stock sales from the offering. Funding for Niche Portal application software development is not available at less than 50% offering stock sales.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Event or Milestone	Amount	Use of Proceeds
Begin Niche Portal Development	$ 50,000	The creation of new Niche Portals using existing non-proprietary software shall be in response to marketing interests, and are funded from the Marketing proceeds. Use of existing software significantly reduces cost. Funding will be available at 100% or 50% stock sales from the offering. Costs may be significantly influenced by the number and complexity of Niche Portals to be developed, and such influences are to be closely managed.
Launch first new Niche Portal	$ 12,500	The first new Niche Portal shall be launched as a test vehicle for a period of 30 days. $12,500 is allocated from the balance of Marketing funds for operational and corrective, if any, costs. Funding is available where offering stock sales exceed 50%.
Complete staffing requirements	-	Staffing will be conducted by current management and should not require the use of offering proceeds. An Employee Salary Reserve of $172,500 (nine months reserve) is available from offering proceeds where hiring or projects may be delayed in starting and/or completion. The reserve is reduced to three months coverage at offering stock sales of 50%, and effectively eliminated at lesser results.
Solicit Niche Portal advertising	-	Niche Portal advertising solicitation is included in the $50,000 allocated for development costs. Costs should be nominal, as Niche Portal has been developed for a specific marketing interest, and such interest's advertising requirements.
Complete Niche Portal application software development	-	Proprietary Niche Portal application software development is completed. Funded at $75,000 from Application Development proceeds. Funding includes upgrade of existing Niche Portals to new software.
Begin Auction application software development	$ 75,000	Auction application software development is funded at $75,000 from Application Development proceeds. Funding requires offering stock sales of 50% or greater to have been achieved.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Event or Milestone	Amount	Use of Proceeds
Profitability Checkpoint	-	Profitability checkpoint conducted by current management team using defined criteria; e.g., advertisement sales revenue, development costs, and operational costs; to evaluate profitability.
Complete Auction application software development	-	Auction application software development is completed. Funding to upgrade existing auction sites to use new software included in $75,000 from Application Development proceeds.

Relevant Links, Inc. expects to derive its income from three sources: advertising sales on web sites, commissions from auction sales and the sale of software application licensing. The first of these is by far the largest. Advertising revenues are based on impressions made on page viewers, which will only take place after a site is launched, linked to other relevant sites and promoted. Two sites, Stockpickcentral.com and Coincrazy.com, are currently fully functional while others await the full creative and promotional process. Advertising revenues on each site should increase over time as new advertisers are secured and added, and page demand increases as the site gains popularity.

Stockpickcentral.com and Coincrazy.com are ready for intensive advertising sales. These were largely 'hobby' sites for Relevant Links, Inc. principals for the past few years and were not aggressively pursued for advertising. Nevertheless, Stockpickcentral has around $2,000/yr. in current advertising and Coincrazy has about $3,000. Now, however, Stockpickcentral has some 2,000 unique visitors per day currently and Coincrazy some 1650 unique visitors per day and Relevant Links, Inc. has recently begun efforts to contact link holders, other web sites currently linked to these sites, to offer expanded exposure via banner advertising. A new advertising contract has been adopted; with Relevant Links, owner of the two sites; and the first confirmations of advertising were realized prior to Oct. 30, 2000. Relevant Links, Inc. expects to take at least 90 days to exhaust prospective advertisers for these two sites in this round, but advertising solicitation will be ongoing permanently and Relevant Links, Inc. expects to hire one or more employees whose sole duties will be advertising sales.

- 4 (b). State the probable consequences to the Company of delays in achieving each of the events or milestones within the above time schedule, and particularly the effect of any delays upon the Company's liquidity in view of the Company's then anticipated level of operating costs. (See Question #'s 11 and 12)

Relevant Links, Inc. is a software development company, providing underlying application and database software to improve the functionality and performance of Internet web sites. Relevant Links designs and develops Niche Portals, focused interest web sites, where the enhanced function and performance of the underlying Relevant Links proprietary software will make these Niche Portals more desirable to users and, therefore, more attractive to businesses which advertise on the Internet.

Relevant Links, Inc.'s primary source of revenue is advertising sales. To achieve liquidity commensurate with operating costs through Relevant Links' development stage, a simple, two-step business strategy will be followed. First; Niche Portals have been acquired and will be developed to gain visibility and develop interest from the Internet community. Second; software which improves the function and performance of Niche Portals will be developed and integrated into existing sites, and will be used exclusively in the development of new sites.

Relevant Links, Inc.

The following lists, in chronological order, the events that should occur in order for Relevant Links, Inc. to become profitable. For each event, probable consequences due to delays in the achievement of the event are stated, the anticipated effect of the delay upon liquidity, the ability to generate adequate cash to meet the needs for cash, in view of operating cost at the time of the event is also explained. To the extent that a delay in the completion of a prior event may impact the start or completion of a subsequent event, effect upon liquidity will be at the time of the subsequent event.

Solicit advertising for Coincrazy and Stockpickcentral

Coincrazy and Stockpickcentral are fully functional sites. Current employees of Relevant Links have begun and are continuing advertising sales. Nominal costs are anticipated for web site development and management. Salary costs will be incurred if a suitable sales staff can be selected and hired to contribute to completing this event. Management expects advertising sales to replenish marketing and development costs, and support operational costs, prior to the end of the quarter following completion of this event. Operating costs at the time of this event will be minimal, and liquidity should not be affected by a delay in the completion of this event. To the extent that a delay precludes the ability for Coincrazy and Stockpickcentral to become self-supportive within the next quarter following completion of this event, Relevant Links' may have to reassess business expectations and plans, and consider the use of working capital reserves from the offering proceeds to meet cash needs during the delay.

Begin Numisbid introduction phase

Numisbid is currently a fully functional site. Management will use industry contacts to solicit business for Numisbid at no cost to participants during this one-month introductory phase. Operational costs are expected to be nominal. A delay in the implementation of this event will impact visibility and interest from prospective participants and potential clients. As operational costs at the time of this event are nominal, a delay in completion of this event is not expected to impact Relevant Links' liquidity. The site is intended to become self-supporting prior to the start of the Niche Portal application development project; any delay to the start of the application development project may impact liquidity at the time of the development project, if operating costs have increased due to additional staffing.

Solicit Numisbid advertising

Advertising solicitation will have identified and selected prospective clients during the Numisbid introduction event. A delay to completion of this event should have no impact on liquidity at this time. This event must be completed on schedule to ensure the Numisbid site becomes self-supporting prior to the start of the Niche Portal Application development project.

Note: Coincrazy, Stockpickcentral, and Numisbid

Coincrazy and Stockpickcentral activities to date indicate interest and potential advertising revenues. Relevant Links management does not anticipate marketing or implementation delays to be caused by a lack of interest in either site. The Numisbid introduction will help to determine interest and potential advertising revenues for the site. Numisbid will compete with other coin auction sites and will need to secure coin buyers and sellers, as well as advertisers, in order to succeed. Where competition may limit interest in Numisbid, Relevant Links' management may consider postponing the Numisbid project until the site can be made more attractive to potential participants or advertisers. Management will take this action, if necessary, to ensure liquidity is not significantly impacted during subsequent Relevant Links, Inc.'s development projects.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Complete initial staffing

Initial staffing completion requires the selection and hiring of one marketing professional and one programming professional. These resources are necessary to ensure the Niche Portal application software development and Niche Portal site development projects can be started on schedule. Relevant Links' primary objective is the development of Niche Portals, web sites, complete with underlying software providing function and performance to provide a competitive advantage over existing, similar sites. A delay in the completion of this event will limit Relevant Links operations to the management and maintenance of the three previously indicated Niche Portals; Coincrazy, Stockpickcentral, and Numisbid. A delay in completion of this event may significantly impact Relevant Links' profitability objectives, but should have no impact on Relevant Links' liquidity at this time.

Note: Application Development

All subsequent development projects; Niche Portal application software, Niche Portal, and Auction application software are dependent upon sufficient funding, resources, and efficient management of the project development process to achieve schedules. Additional revenues cannot be generated until such time as each project has been completed and marketed. To the extent that working capital from offering proceeds must be used to offset development project delays, the liquidity of Relevant Links, Inc. will be impacted. For each of the following development project, impact upon liquidity should be considered primarily caused by an increase in operational costs due to additional staffing.

Relevant Links, Inc. is significantly dependent upon the Niche Portal application software development project, as the cornerstone to its business plan. Niche Portal development is dependent on this application software to provide function and performance as a competitive edge. A delay to the Niche Portal application software development project will require prompt assessment and corrective action, to insure business objectives and profitability can be achieved.

Begin Niche Portal application software development

Niche Portal application software will provide a competitive edge for Relevant Links' sites, enhancing site function and performance, and also providing opportunity for sales and licensing of the application product. A delay in beginning the Niche Portal application software development project will significantly impact liquidity where operating costs have increased due to additional staffing.

Begin Niche Portal development

New Niche Portal development responds to market needs, provides visibility, and promotes opportunity for advertising sales. Niche Portal application software providing function and performance can be integrated into these sites when completed, providing a competitive edge. A delay in the completion of this event will cause a delay or loss of advertising sales opportunity. Loss of advertising sales, and potential delay to the launching of further new Niche Portals will eventually impact Relevant Links' profitability objectives. Where development costs are incurred due to additional staffing, offering proceeds working capital reserves may be required to offset potential impact to liquidity.

Launch first new Niche Portal

The first new Niche Portal shall be launched and will be operated as a test vehicle for a period of 30 days. This checkpoint constitutes a portion of the Niche Portal development task, and where development costs are incurred due to additional staffing, offering proceeds working capital reserves may be required to offset potential impact to liquidity.

Relevant Links, Inc.

Complete staffing requirements

Staffing must be completed to provide resources for the application software development projects. A delay in the completion of this event can be expected to affect liquidity, where development costs, including any prior additional staffing, have been incurred.

Solicit Niche Portal advertising

Advertising is solicited for the first new Niche Portal. Marketing plans are developed for the solicitation of participants and/or advertising for additional planned Niche Portals. The new Niche Portal application software is being completed and made ready for integration to these sites. The event must be completed as scheduled to ensure commissions, advertising, sales and licensing revenues are available as soon as practical following completion of the site. A delay in the completion of this event will primarily impact profitability objectives. Liquidity, at this point, is impacted by delays in the development projects and should not be significantly impacted by marketing events.

Complete Niche Portal application software development

All prior steps taken to achieve profitability require the Niche Portal application software to be completed and available as scheduled. Development costs continue through any delay in the completion of this project and will significantly impact liquidity. Commissions, advertising, sales and licensing revenues will be delayed until the application software is made available and, with the delay of these revenues, offering proceed reserves may be required to maintain cash requirements.

Begin Auction application software development

The Auction application software development project begins upon completion of the Niche Portal application software development project. A delay in the start of this event indicates the extended expenditure of development costs due to failure to complete the Niche Portal application software development project on schedule, with impact to liquidity as previously described for that event.

Profitability checkpoint

At this checkpoint, Relevant Links, Inc.'s management will assess profitability; whether achieved or a realistic estimate of when profitability will be achieved. At this checkpoint, sufficient revenues should be realized to meet operating costs; liquidity should not be an exposure. The purpose of this checkpoint is to permit the development of corrective action plans, if necessary, to achieve profitability objectives.

Complete Auction application software development

The new Auction application software is intended to provide a competitive edge to existing and new auction sites. A delay in the completion of this event will impact profitability due to an interim loss of commission, advertising, sales and licensing revenues. Liquidity should not be impacted at this stage of Relevant Links' business operations. The Auction application software product is not an interrelated project, as are the Niche Portal development projects, and a delay to completion of the Auction application software development project does not impose consequences to the extent the Niche Portal projects impose.

Note: After reviewing the nature and timing of each event or milestone, potential investors should reflect upon whether achievement of each within the estimated timeframe is realistic, and should assess the consequences of delays or failure of achievement in making an investment decision.

OFFERING PRICE FACTORS

If the securities offered are common stock, or are exercisable for or convertible into common stock, the following factors may be relevant to the price at which the securities are being offered.

5. What were net, after-tax earnings for the last fiscal year?

Relevant Links, Inc. is a development stage company without meaningful operational history; or net, after-tax earnings for the last fiscal year.

6. If the Company had profits, show offering price as a multiple of earnings. Adjust to reflect for any stock splits or recapitalizations, and use conversion or exercise price in lieu of offering price, if applicable.

Relevant Links Inc. was incorporated on April 7, 2000; and did not have profits for the last fiscal year.

7(a). What is the net tangible book value of the Company? If deficit, shown in parenthesis.) For this purpose, net tangible book value means total assets (exclusive of copyrights, patents, goodwill, research and development costs and similar intangible items) minus total liabilities. If the net tangible book value per share is substantially less than this offering (or exercise or conversion) price per share, explain the reasons for variation.

Relevant Links, Inc. current net tangible book value is $46,450 or $0.03 per share. Giving effect to the sale by Relevant Links, Inc. of all offered shares at the public offering price, the net tangible book value of the Company would be $713,950 or $0.35 per share which results in dilution to the new shareholders of $1.65 per share.

The following reflects dilution to the new shareholders based upon maximum and nominal sales of shares at the offering price of $2.00 per share.

	Maximum (350,000) Shares Sold	50% (175,000) Shares Sold	10% (35,000) Shares Sold
Net tangible book value	$ 713,950.00	$ 363,950.00	$ 83,950.00
Per share value	$ 0.35	$ 0.19	$ 0.05
Dilution to new shareholders	$ 1.65	$ 1.81	$ 1.95

Relevant Links, Inc.

- 7(b). State the dates on which the Company sold or otherwise issued securities during the last 12 months, the amount of such securities sold, the number of persons to whom they were sold, and relationship of such persons to the Company at the time of the sale, the price at which they were sold, and if not sold for cash, a concise description of the consideration. (Exclude bank debt).

Jeffrey Chatfield	Principal Stockholder	8/00	650,000
All Others (6)	Shareholders	7/00-10/00	350,000

Note: All shares issued bear a restrictive legend subject to Rule 144 of the Securities Exchange Act.

- 8. (a) What percentage of the outstanding shares of the Company will the investors in this offering have? Assume exercise of outstanding options, warrants or rights and conversion of convertible securities, if the respective exercise or conversion prices are at or less than the offering price. (Also assume exercise of any options, warrants or rights and conversions of any convertible securities in this offering.) Assuming maximum offering is sold: 17 %
- (b) What post-offering value is management implicitly attributing to the entire Company by establishing the price per security set forth on the cover page (or exercise conversion price if common stock is not offered)? (Total outstanding shares after offering times offering price, or exercise or conversion price if common stock is not offered.) Assuming maximum offering is sold: $4,130,000.00

(For above purposes, assume outstanding options are exercised in determining "shares" if the exercise prices are at or less than the offering price. All convertible securities, including outstanding convertible securities, shall be assumed converted and any options, warrants or rights in this offering shall be assumed exercised.)

Note: After reviewing the above, potential investors should consider whether or not the offering price (or exercise or conversion price, if applicable) for the securities is appropriate at the present stage of the Company's development.

and the Six Months Ended July 31, 2001

(Information as of July 31, 2001 and the Six Months Then Ended is Unaudited)

Note 1 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

This summary of significant accounting policies of Relevant Links, Inc. is presented to assist in understanding the Company's financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company's management who is responsible for their integrity and objectivity. These accounting policies conform to generally accepted accounting principles and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements

a. Organization

The Company was incorporated in the State of Colorado on April 7, 2000. The Company is in the development stage and has had no significant operations. The Company has selected January 31 to be its fiscal year.

b. Description of Business

The Company is a software development company and develops niche portals for use in Internet operations.

c. Per Share Information

Per share information is based upon the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period.

d. Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements.

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

e. Risks and Uncertainties

The Company is subject to substantial business risks and uncertainties inherent in starting a new business. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to generate sufficient revenues or obtain sufficient funds necessary for launching a new business venture.

f. Revenue Recognition

The Company's revenues are derived principally from the sale of banner and sponsorship advertisements. To date, the Company's revenue has resulted from billings for past uses. In the future, it expects that there may be some revenues which are prepaid with unused amounts being recorded on a deferred recognition basis.

g. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 107 ("FASB 107"), "Disclosure About Fair Value of Financial Instruments." SFAS 107 requires disclosure of fair value information about financial instruments when it is practicable to estimate that value. The carrying amount of the Company's cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, prepaid rent, accounts payable and accrued expenses, and notes payable approximate their estimated fair values due to their short-term maturities.

h. Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of demand deposits in banks and cash on hand with an initial maturity of 90 days or less.

i. Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Company adopted Statement of Position No. 98-5 ("SOP 98-5"), "Reporting the Costs of Start-Up Activities: SOP 98-5 requires that all non-governmental entities expense the cost of start-up activities, including organizational costs as those costs are incurred.

In June of 1998, the FASB issued Statement of Accounting Standards No. 133 ("SFAS 133"), "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities." SFAS 133 establishes accounting and reporting standards for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts, and for hedging activities. It requires that an entity recognize all derivatives as either assets or liabilities on the balance sheet at their fair value. This statement, as amended by SFAS 137, is effective for financial statements for all fiscal quarters to all fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2000. The Company does not expect the adoption of this standard to have a material impact on its results of operation, financial position or cash flows as it currently does not engage in any derivative or hedging activities.

The Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("FAS") No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income". FAS No. 130 requires that the components and total amounts of comprehensive income be displayed in the financial statements beginning in 1998. Comprehensive income includes net income and all changes in equity during a period that arises from non-owner sources, such as foreign currency items and unrealized gains and losses on certain investments in equity securities. The company does not have any components or comprehensive income other than net loss.

In December 1999, The Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") issued Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101 ("SAB 101"), "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements." SAB 101 summarized certain of the SEC's views regarding the application of generally accepted accounting principles to revenue recognition in financial statements. In June 2000, the SEC amended SAB 101 to require companies with fiscal years beginning after December 15, 1999 to implement the provisions of SAB 101 no later than the fourth fiscal quarter. The Company adopted the provisions of SAB 101 in the fiscal quarter ending January 31, 2001. The Company does not expect the adoption to have any material effect on its financial statements.

j. Interim financial statements

All adjustments (including normal recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly the financial position, the operations and cash flows as of April 30, 2001, and for the three months ended April 30, 2001, and the statement of cash flows from April 7, 2000 (inception) through April 30, 2001, have been made.

Note 2 - Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation, and are depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. Management has estimated the useful life of computer equipment to be three years and the life of office furniture and equipment to be seven years. The following schedule shows fixed assets and accumulated depreciation as of January 31, 2001 and July 31, 2001:

	January 31, 2001	July 31, 2001
Computer Equipment	$ 9,680	$ 24,060

For the Periods from April 7, 2000 (Date of Inception) through January 31, 2001
and the Six Months Ended July 31, 2001

Note 3 - Intangible Assets

The Company acquired intangible assets composed of two computer websites from related parties described in Note 4. The websites were acquired by the issuance of stock and notes payable to two related parties. An amount equivalent to the notes payable is shown in the Statement of Shareholders' Equity as a distribution and no carrying value is recorded since no verifiable historical cost is available. The acquisitions were of websites only and not the acquisition of a business. No customer lists, no property and equipment, or other features normally associated in the acquisition of a business were acquired.

Note 4 - Notes Payable - Related Parties

The Company purchased two websites from two principle shareholders by issuing a note payable of $37,500 and 682,500 shares of the Company's common stock to each person. The notes payable, indicated in Note 3, which have a current balance due of $70,000, are due by July 31, 2002, and accrue interest at 7%, accrued and compounded quarterly.

Note 5 - Capital Stock

In addition to the 1,365,000 shares issued as described in Note 4, the Company sold 350,000 shares in connection with a private placement offering at $1.00 per share.

Note 6 - Office Lease

Effective August 2, 2000, the Company entered into an office sublease for space in Denver, Colorado. The term of the sublease commenced on September 1, 2000 and expires on February 28, 2003, with monthly base rent of $3,021. Future base rent commitments during the years ended January 31, under this lease, are summarized as follows:

2002	$36,256
2003	36,256
2004	3,021

Note 7 - Income Taxes

The Company, as of January 31, 2001, had approximately $135,000 of net operating loss carryover that expires in year 2020. A change in ownership of more than 50% of the Company may result in the inability of the Company to utilize the carryover. The Company had deferred tax assets of approximately $6,200 related to the net operating loss carryover. A valuation allowance has been provided for the total amount since the amounts, if any, of future revenues necessary to be able to utilize the carryover, are uncertain.

The overall tax effective tax rate differs from the Federal statutory tax rate for the year ended January 31, 2001:

	% Pre-tax income (loss)
Tax provision based on Federal statutory rate	(34.0%)
State tax, net of Federal benefit	2.3%
Surtax exemption	27.1%
Estimated tax benefit rate	(4.06%)

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF CERTAIN RELEVANT FACTORS

- 47. If the Company's financial statements show losses from operations, explain the causes underlying these losses and what steps the Company has taken or is taking to address these causes.

This current loss is a result of formation and initial operational costs. Management expects revenues from currently functional web sites, as well as the successful marketing of products to be developed, to be sufficient to cause Relevant Links, Inc. to become profitable within the next 12-months. Relevant Links, Inc. has sufficient cash reserves to sustain current operations for the next 12-months at current staffing and operational levels.

However, full implementation of the current business plans is dependent on the proceeds from this offering as outlined in question 4 (a) and 4(b). Application of varying levels of proceeds from this offering are listed in response to question 9(a). Absent those proceeds a limited implementation would be made with existing cash reserves. Relevant Links, Inc. would initially seeking to boost the advertising sales of the existing niche sites by actively soliciting satellite sites benefiting from the site traffic generated by the free links. Additional niche sites would also be developed to increase revenue. Once sales were sufficient to sustain operations the planned software applications could be developed.

- 48. Describe any trends in the Company's historical operating results. Indicate changes now occurring in the underlying economics of the industry or the Company's business which, in the opinion of management, will have a significant impact (either favorable or adverse) upon the Company's results of operations within the next 12 months, and give a rough estimate of the probable extent of impact.

Relevant Links, Inc. has had limited historical operating results and although the continued growth of E-commerce is favorable to Relevant Links current business plan, we do not feel that we can reasonably estimate the impact of that growth on operations planned for the next 12 months.

- 49. If the Company sells a product or products and has had significant sales during its last fiscal year, state the existing gross margin (net sales less cost of such sales as presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles) as a percentage of sales for the last fiscal year: ____%
What is anticipated gross margin for next year of operations? ____%
If this is expected to change, explain. Also, if reasonably current gross margin figures are available for the industry, indicate these figures and the source or sources from which they are obtained.

Relevant Links, Inc. is newly formed and has not had a prior fiscal year.

- 50. Foreign sales as a percent of total sales for last fiscal year: ____%
Domestic government sales as a percent of total domestic sales for last fiscal year: ____%
Explain the nature of these sales, including any anticipated changes:

Relevant Links, Inc. is newly formed and has not had a prior fiscal year.

DISCLOSURE OF COMMISSION POSITION ON INDEMNIFICATION FOR SECURITIES ACT LIABILITIES

Every person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, by reason of the fact that he or a person of whom he is the legal representative is or was a director or officer of the corporation or is or was serving at the request of the corporation for its benefit as a director or officer of another corporation, or as its representative in a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, shall be indemnified and held harmless to the fullest extent legally permissible under the general corporation law of the State of Colorado from time to time against all expenses, liability and loss (including attorney's fees, judgments, fines, and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) reasonably incurred and in advance of the final disposition of the action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the director or officer to repay the amount if it is ultimately determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that he is not entitled to be indemnified by the corporation. Such right of indemnification shall be a contract right which may be enforced in any manner desired by such person; and shall not be exclusive of any other right which such directors, officers or representatives may have or hereafter acquire and, without limiting the generality of such statement, they shall be entitled to their respective rights of indemnification under any bylaw, agreement, vote of stockholders, provision of law or otherwise, as well as their rights under the Articles of Incorporation of Relevant Links, Inc..

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Act") may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the small business issuer pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the small business issuer has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable.
